Recently, lots of people all over the world have been reporting on the appearance of some clowns in weird costume. The Clown phenomenon has terrorised people across the US, now spreads to UK, Australia and terrifies more people . The clown usually have creepy faces, show up in a dark and quiet place to scare passer-by and freak people out. People just hope that they never have to face the clown in real life.

The Clown phenomenon started in August from South Carolina and then spreaded all over the US and even other countries. According to some sources, these bizarre events appeared in at least ten states. A 16 year old student from Pennsylvania was stabbed to death by a person wearing a clown mask. In Green Bay, Wisconsin residents were scared by a walking clown carrying black balloons.

Quite frankly, I would encourage violence against these "Clown" idiots... They are not & never were funny, especially one carrying a knife. If I'm confronted by one, I'm not running away... I'm running straight through him & it won't be funny.
